DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 04/09/08 has been entered. In the RCE filed on 04/09/08, the following have occurred: claims: 1-6, 8, 10-16, 18, 20-22, 24-29, and 31-36 have been amended, claims 37-40 have been added, and claims 1-40 remain pending.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed on 04/09/08, with respect to claims 1-40 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The previous art rejection has been withdrawn. Claims 1-40 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C 101, and 35 U.S.C 112, first and second paragraphs, set forth in this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC §101

1. 35 U.S.C. §101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 22-30, and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

3. Based on Supreme Court precedent (Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876)) and recent Federal Circuit decisions, §101 process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing (the Supreme Court recognized that this test is not necessarily fixed or permanent and may evolve with technological advances. Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 71 (1972)).

4. If neither of these requirements is met by the claim(s), the method is not a patent eligible process under 35 U.S.C. §101.

5. In this particular case, for example claim 22, the first two steps recited in the body of claim 22 i.e., “receiving a set of transaction data...,” and “storing the set of transaction data...,” are sufficiently tied to another statutory class (i.e., the internet and database). However, in performing the remaining method steps in the body of claim 22, there is no requirement that a machine be used, thus the claims are not considered sufficiently tied to another statutory class. Thus, to qualify as a 101 statutory method, the claim should positively recite the other statutory class (the thing or product) to which it is tied. Claims 23-30, and 39 are rejection on the same reason and rationale as in claim 22.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

7. Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The applicant recites a new limitation "wherein the set of results include a time-windowed relationship within the standard pricing group" in the body of all the independent claims. However, the specification as originally filed does not provide support for this newly added limitation. The examiner searched the length and breath of the applicant's specification and could not find a single paragraph where support for this limitation is provided. Appropriate correction is required.

8. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

9. Claims 1-40 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The applicant recites the limitation "the standard pricing group attributes" in the body of all the independent claims. However, it is not clear to the examiner what these pricing group attributes are. Further, the applicant recites the limitation "wherein the set of results include a time-windowed relationship within the standard pricing group" in the body of all the independent claims. However, it is not clear to the examiner what the time-windowed relationship is in relation to the standard pricing group. Clarification is required.
